

Terms of Use

1. The mere use of the Hyam G. Mallat Law Firm website (the “Site”) implies acceptance by the user of the following terms of use (the “Terms of Use”) which we recommend any user to carefully read. Furthermore, Hyam G. Mallat Law Firm (“HM Law”) reserves the right to amend and/or update the Terms of Use at any time and without any notice.
2. The Site and all its content is the sole ownership of HM Law. No data procured from this Site may be reproduced, sold, transferred, modified, redistributed, published or be subject to commercial exploitation and use in any way whatsoever.
3. The content provided by HM Law on the Site is provided solely on a free, information basis. They are not and should not be perceived as legal advice and may or may not be correct or updated in accordance with current legislation and regulation. For professional advice, a user must contact HM Law directly.
4. By using this Site, the user accepts being subject to the Terms of Use’s conditions, obligations and instructions stipulated herein. Also, the user guarantees that all the information provided by him are true and correct and that transmission of threatening, derogatory, political or racist data or more generally any illegal data is expressly prohibited. The Site must never be used for illegal, false or untrue speculation.
5. This Site has been created on the basis of data obtained from a variety of sources, whether on the World Wide Web or elsewhere. Consequently, and although HM Law has made reasonable efforts to ensure the correctness of the content on the Site, HM Law does not guarantee, howsoever, availability, access or the correctness of the information contained in this Site. HM Law does not guarantee howsoever, the complete status, market quality or correctness of the data, whatever it may be, entered into this Site. HM Law shall not be liable, howsoever, for any prejudice, loss, claim, or damage foreseeable or not, direct, indirect or immaterial resulting or connected in any way with any other item of information existing on this Site, or any use or inability of use of the Site and/or of the data contained herein. Nothing contained in the Site can cause HM Law to be responsible or liable, morally or financially, towards any party.
6. The Site can provide the user access to links to third party websites not under the control of HM Law. The public Internet, including the World Wide Web, includes a large number of sites the content of which may be modified at all times by their owners. These sites are run by parties who have at their disposal data communication equipment over which HM Law has no control. Consequently, HM Law is not liable howsoever, for the content of the different type of data obtainable from other third party sites to which hyperlinks are available, nor is HM Law liable for the availability, access, exactness or suitability of the said information or data.

In particular, HM Law disclaims any liability for third party sites that may not comply with the legal and regulatory provisions currently in force.
HM Law disclaims any liability in the event of fraudulent or illegal use or of any other type of non legal exploitation of the Site by a third party.

7. The data, texts, information, images and photos which are part of this Site are under the sole ownership of HM Law or the partners thereof, where applicable, and are duly protected by rights governing intellectual property useable exclusively for private purposes.
Any other use, reproduction, representation or adaptation under any form whatsoever of all or part of the items or data contained in the Site, without the prior written approval by HM Law, shall be considered as an act of infringement.
This shall also apply to any brand names, logos, or trademarks of HM Law or of any other distinctive sign belonging thereto, on this Site and of which HM Law may hold ownership.
8. While HM Law takes reasonable precautions to prevent computer viruses, bugs, worms and all other malicious programs on the Site, HM Law has no liability for them in case they cause any kind of loss, damage, or any type of negative impact on a user.
9. HM Law cannot and does not guarantee that the Internet network will always work properly and informs the user that it has no control over how the Internet public network works. Therefore, HM Law cannot guarantee to the user that he/she/it will have the ability to access the site and use it in the way it is intended to be used without interruption or error and HM Law disclaims all liability for interruptions and errors.
10. HM Law retains the possibility of modifying or updating the Terms of Use at any time and without prior notification.
11. If a user violates the Terms of Use, HM Law reserves the right to take all proper legal actions to protect its rights.
12. These Terms of Use are subject to Lebanese Law. In the event of dispute regarding the interpretation, performance or failure to perform, the Courts of Beirut-Lebanon shall have sole and exclusive jurisdiction.